Stand up, Stand up for...Easter!

During the Great Fifty Days of Easter it is the custom throughout the church to stand for the Great Thanksgiving. In the 6th century the canons provided that anyone caught kneeling during the Great Fifty Days was to be excommunicated as a heretic! Happily, we no longer go that far! Here is what the Commentary on the American Prayer Book, has to say.

“Standing was the universal posture...until late in the middle ages and continues to be the posture in Eastern churches. The council of Nicaea forbade kneeling for prayer on Sundays or during the Great Fifty Days of Easter, days when the Eucharist would be celebrated. Late in the middle ages, when the focus of the congregation had changed from participation in the great Thanksgiving and receiving of communion to being present for adoration, at the “moment of consecration,” we find evidence that some people had begun to kneel for the elevations which had been introduced into the rite at the institution narrative.

“The 1549 Book assumed standing to be the posture for this prayer; Prayers Books have traditionally embodied the principle that people stand for prayer unless expressly bidden to kneel...Standing for this prayer symbolizes our new life in Christ and the congregation’s participation in the prayer offered in their name.” (Hatchett, Marion J., Commentary on the American Prayer Book, Seabury Press, 1982, p. 364)

The Great Fifty Days of Easter are to the Christian Year what Sunday is to the week, one-seventh of the year, and a sacred and holy time in which we rejoice! It concludes on June 4th this year with the great celebration of Pentecost, the coming of the Holy Spirit, and a baptism.

A blessed Easter season to each and every one,
Carol+

Vestry Highlights - March, April 2017

March

Seminarian Report: Jeff Stevenson is the first seminarian sponsored by St. Barnabas', and came to the meeting to report on his program and progress at Virginia Theological Seminary. He has done field education at St. James', Warrenton, and next year will work as a chaplain trainee with the Alexandria police department, which will further his goal of working with either the military or with veterans. We hope to have Jeff come to preach at services at St. Barnabas' sometime in the spring or summer.

Good Friday Offering: The Vestry approved a proposal for undesignated plate offering for Maundy Thursday, Good Friday, and the Easter Vigil be dedicated to the Province of Jerusalem.

Diocesan Convention Delegates: The Diocesan Convention is moving to November. Sanjiv Augustine was elected delegate, and Sharon Jones was elected as alternate.

Digital Footprint: The Long Range Plan has been distributed to the parish electronically, and paper copies are available through the Church office. It was decided to share the plan with the Virginia Diocesan Bishops, Canon Wingo, and the Rectors of our Region.

Committee Liaisons: Work is underway to set up a system of liaisons between various committees and other work groups and the vestry, to further communications and build long term leadership of activities. This will also further the work of the Long Range Plan.

Other: Camille Mittelholtz reported that the next Rebuilding Together project is scheduled for April 29. St. Barnabas' is co-sponsoring a house through ACCA. All members of St. Barnabas' are encouraged to participate.

April

St. Barnabas' Day: The vestry agreed to observe a celebration of St. Barnabas' Day with a joint service at 10:15 a.m. on June 11, followed by a potluck luncheon and activities.

Outreach: St. Barnabas' will resume its participation in the FACETS program to feed the homeless beginning May 7. A number of volunteers have signed up for various tasks, although there is still room for additional volunteers. Additional volunteers are needed for the ASYP after-school program hosted by St. Barnabas'.

November Bazaar

The members of the WOSB are beginning to turn thoughts to our November bazaar. It is the major fundraiser for the Women. One of our popular tables is the costume jewelry table. We are asking for donations of gently used rings, bracelets, necklaces, pins, and watches which we will sell. We also ask for the not-so-gently used pieces, broken pieces, or single earrings which we will use in making crafts. We would appreciate it if you would go through your jewelry collection and give us pieces you no longer wear or ones you haven't gotten around to throwing away. We can use them! Please give them to Gertrude Jones or any member of the WOSB. Thank you.

Adult Forum

by Maria Macfarlane & Stephen Ackert

April 30-May 7 Interfaith Dialogue - Christians & Muslims Seek Greater Knowledge and Understanding of One Another This pair of forums brings together two persons who led forums last year, and from whom we learned a great deal. Rich Geissler has generated and led thought-provoking discussions on Christian-Muslim relations at St. Anne's in Reston, where he is a member. He has certificates from the Virginia Theological Seminary Lay School of Theology and Evening School of Theology. Imam Mehmet Ayaz serves at the Ezher Bloom Mosque and the Institute of Islamic and Turkish Studies. In addition to speaking to St. Barnabas' Adult Forum, he has helped to generate shared meals and fellowship between members of his Mosque and members of St. Barnabas'. Each man in turn will be the leader one week and the "first responder" the other week.

Date TBD Architecture and Worship Throughout the Ages Stephen Ackert will show how cultural and political conditions as well as changing theology brought about changes in the way churches were built and existing structures were reconfigured in various periods of church history. This forum discussion will prepare us for a field trip at a later date, which will include visits to area churches that exemplify some of the styles discussed.

June 4 (time TBD) A "Sundae Sunday" With Music Fun for the whole family as we concoct our own original ice cream sundaes in the Richardson Room. Our time together will include a "name that hymn tune" contest in the church, with Stephen Ackert providing the clues at the organ.

Beginnings

Beginnings, the St. Barnabas' book group, will meet on Monday, May 1, at 7:30 p.m., at the home of Joan and Lee Gibbs. We are reading Fear of the Other: No Fear in Love by William Willimon. Willimon is an author we have read before. This little book is written in response to the times we are in. It is readily available.

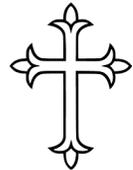

Note: If you plan to order the book, and if you access Amazon through the link at the bottom of the parish web site (www.st-barnabaschurch.org) and have the book shipped to your address (not the church address), the parish will receive credit for your purchase.

Welcome Home

A warm "Welcome Home" to Larry Goldschmidt, who searched all of Northern Virginia to find his favorite Episcopal church—and ended right back where he started! Glad to have you back at St. Barnabas', Larry.

Centering Prayer

The group who has been meeting weekly for Centering Prayer has decided to continue the 9:30 a.m. Thursday meetings for four more weeks in May. We will also meet on Saturdays in May at 9:00 a.m. All meetings are in the parish Library. Questions? Please speak to Betty Dunlop, Maria Macfarlane, or Dottie Rogerson, or call Catherine Dubas, our parish administrator (703-941-2922).

MAD Camp at Shrine Mont

We will have six young people attending MAD Camps this year: Jay Carroll, Johanna Carroll, Sameer Augustine, Sandhya Augustine, Lulu Harris, and Bradley Surprise.

MAD Camp scholarship donations are accepted through the end of May. Parishioners are encouraged to attend the MAD Camp performance at the close of each session. More information will be provided this summer.

Thanks and More Thanks

- To John Otwell, whose efforts to clean up after the storm went well beyond the call of duty.
- To Catherine Dubas and Young Kwon for their terrific staff support.
- To the Altar Guild members who worked around the clock during Holy Week.
- To the Choirs whose glorious music enriched our worship.
- To Michael Dugger who made sure we had acolytes whenever needed.
- To Bob Macfarlane and Jennifer Henry for their prayers of healing following the 8 o'clock service.
- To all the families with school age children who have produced, supported, attended, and cleaned up after so many events this spring..

The Easter Parade by Canon Flanagan

In the 1860's, St. Luke's Hospital at 5th Avenue and 54th Street in Manhattan was on the outskirts of town. An Episcopal institution run by Sister Anne Ayers, it was the companion of the Church of the Holy Communion where the Sisterhood of the Holy Communion had been founded, along with the church and the hospital, by The Rev. William Augustus Muhlenberg, Rector. Holy Communion Church was "in town" at 6th Avenue and 20th Street.

At a time when the Episcopal Church still reveled in the effects of the Reformation, when ceremony was minimal and colors were predominantly black and white, flowers were not used. Coming from a German background, Mr. Muhlenberg restored the presence of flowers in the church, particularly at Easter.

After the Easter services were over, the ladies would gather the flowers from the church. Then, together with their husbands and other members of the parish, they carried the flowers, walking across to 5th Avenue and then thirty-four blocks uptown to St. Luke's Hospital. This was an unusual event in the life of Manhattan—a large group of finely dressed individuals walking with flowers (in the days when horses still dominated the streets) - and people came out to watch them pass. And so was born the Easter parade.

The Rev. Mr. Muhlenberg's ministry was, at the time, often bold and innovative, anchored by its concern for sacramental worship and evangelism. Patients in hospital were to him "guests" to whom we might minister in Christ's name. He died in 1877, and the observance of his feast day is April 8th.

A Note from Tom Lyles

Dear St. Barnabas' Family,

I'm overdue in writing to thank you for your many kindnesses and prayers during the last few years, which had no small part in bringing me safely through to this day. I'm referring to the successful removal of a brain tumor this past November and my ongoing recovery. It really feels like a miracle, and yet as thrilling as that is, I feel awkward and insensitive talking about it when we all know people who could use a miracle of their own.

Recovery has been slower than I had expected in the first days following surgery. Apparently the brain doesn't like empty cavities, and my recent MRI showed that an arachnoid cyst has taken the place of the tumor. This fluid-filled cyst may reduce over time on its own, so my surgeon is taking a watch-and-wait approach. Meanwhile, I'm dizzy and unbalanced and fairly weak. I am somewhat impatiently waiting until I can again drive (there's no Uber or Lyft in South Boston!) and resume physical therapy, but I keep reminding myself that I'm very lucky to still be here!

Thank you so much for your love and prayers. I'm especially grateful to an angel who emailed me each day from the days leading up to surgery through my hospital stay and beyond. Her messages were a lifeline during the whole ordeal, but I won't embarrass her by naming her here.

Love,
Tom

Annandale Safe Youth Project

The Program Coordinator, Vania, keeps the students busy, and it is a very happy group. They are working on a program called CatchKids, which has been in use for several years now. Exercise and healthy nutrition are a major part of the current section. There is a group who comes in and bakes with them once a month, and that is a huge hit.

As you may have heard, Alternative House is now called Second Story, with Judith Dittman as CEO. The intent is to create a more positive image, particularly for clients of the program.

We are looking forward (hopefully) to our regular summer program, with Vania leading. Meanwhile, we could use more help with homework time. If you are able to volunteer once a week please call the parish office to sign up.

Looking forward, we are considering how we might increase our parish support to the program so that we might serve more students. Stay tuned!

Annandale Christian Community for Action (ACCA)

- ACCA's Challenge Campaign for 2016-17 raised $156,316. ACCA is grateful for this generous support, which will enable ACCA to help our neighbors with emergency assistance for rent, utilities, and other urgent needs; quality child development; the food pantry; and Meals on Wheels.
- April 29th - Rebuilding Together Workday Thanks to all who volunteered for this year's project, including Jack Miller, John Otwell, Frank Spink, Elsa & Scott Cannon, and Ken & Camille Mittelholtz. Photos will be posted on ACCA's Facebook page at www.accacares.org.
- May 13th - Stamp Out Hunger Local postal carriers will participate in the Stamp Out Hunger food drive, collecting non-perishable food items which will be given to the ACCA Food Pantry. You can also bring your non-perishable food and household paper goods donations to St. Barnabas' and leave them in the basket in the Narthex. The donations from church are shared between ACCA and the Food for Others site.
- June 17th - Furniture Ministry Volunteers report to the furniture warehouse, located on the ground of Annandale United Methodist Church (6935 Columbia Pike, Annandale), at 8:00 a.m. Volunteers pick up donations of gently-used furniture, and make deliveries to needy households. New volunteers are always welcome! Thank you to those who served on April 22nd.
- October 3rd - ACCA celebrates its 50th Anniversary with a special event at Queen of Apostles Catholic Church.
- October 14th - 2017 CROP Walk at Lake Accotink Park. In 2016 the walk raised a total of $19,114 for Church World Service, and ACCA received a local allocation of $4,778 from CWS.

For more information about these activities or ACCA, please contact Camille at kcmittelholtz@gmail.com or by calling 703-573-0074.

Special Meeting of the Women of St. Barnabas' Thursday, January 19, 2017 by Gertrude Jones

The WOSB held a special meeting on Thursday, January 19, 2017, to develop a budget for our Inreach/Outreach ministry. Our last meeting had been in October. We do not meet in November, as we are very involved with the bazaar. Our next planned meeting was the New Years' Day Brunch which was cancelled because of the threat of icy roads.

At the special meeting, Bonnie Baldwin, Treasurer, gave us copies of our budgets in 2015 and 2016 which reminded us what we have supported in the past. We earned over $3,700 at the bazaar, and with that money added to the money we already had in our account, we decided to give to the following organizations:

ACCA - $500

Heritage Food Site - $500

Bethany House - $500

Jackson Field Homes - $500

Boys Home - $500

Grace Inside - $250

Total - $2,750

Grace Inside is a prison ministry based in Richmond. Beth Harper and Ann Sayles had suggested that we support them.

Those attending: Bonnie Baldwin and Gertrude Jones

Annandale Food Site

The Food Site continues to see large numbers and a steady flow of new faces. Even during the storm on April 6th there were about 45 people crowded in the foyer waiting for food! Every can or bag of noodles is a huge help—thank you for all your support!

- Ann Woodle

Peter Badger to Speak at WOSB Soup & Salad Supper

Peter Badger, along with his wife Connie, has volunteered at Mount Vernon Estate for over ten years. They help orient visitors from all over the world to visit George Washington's preserved Mansion and Estate, and to understand the character of our first President.

Peter volunteers weekly in Washington's Presidential Library, and Connie in "Hands on History" for children ages 3 to 8, where they practice colonial crafts and activities. Connie occasionally assists Lady Washington in the Interpretive Center, as well.

Estate interpreters describe every room of the Mansion, and costumed interpreters help visitors of all ages recall 18th Century life on the estate in every season. Spring and summer at Mount Vernon are especially beautiful, with two gardens in bloom and growth all around.

We are looking forward to Peter's discussion of Mount Vernon, Washington's beloved home, of what to see when one visits, and what a visitor can learn about Washington's life. We invite everyone to come on Tuesday evening, June 6th at 6:30 p.m. in the Richardson Room, and bring a dish to share.
